WELCOME FROM THE PRINCIPAL

The programmes in this brochure are accredited by the Council on Higher Education (CHE), and they meet the requirements of other regulatory authorities in South Africa. This prospectus will provide you with all the information you require to make your final decision regarding which programme to choose and study.

While all the programmes in this prospectus are accredited, at REGENT BUSINESS SCHOOL we recognise that today's pace of technological change is staggering, and the speed of current breakthroughs has no historical precedent. The growth in artificial intelligence (AI), robotics, autonomous vehicles, the Internet of Things (IoT), and nanotechnology has become the new norm of the Fourth Industrial Revolution (4IR) or the Digital Age. Given this context, we accept as one of our primary challenges, the provision of education for employability to our students.

TO PREPARE STUDENTS FOR SUCCESS DURING THE 4IR THE NOTION OF EDUCATION HAS TO CHANGE AT SCALE. STUDENTS BOTH AT EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS AND IN INDUSTRY WILL NEED TO ADAPT AND INNOVATE IN RESPONSE TO NEW DEMANDS AND CHANGING CIRCUMSTANCES, IN BEING ABLE TO COMMAND AND EXPAND THE POWER OF TECHNOLOGY TO CREATE NEW KNOWLEDGE

Hence, new standards for what students should be able to do are replacing the basic skill competencies and knowledge expectations of the past.

To meet these challenges, higher education curricula must be transformed in ways that will enable students to acquire the creative thinking, flexible problem solving, collaboration and innovative skills they will need to be successful in work and life. The 21st Century has introduced an increasingly complex, competitive and fast-paced labour market which has evolved with new types of jobs, professions and occupations that require a new set of skills and competencies.

These are increasingly difficult to find among recent university graduates.

These new skills and competencies will effectively contribute to bridge the gap between learning and work and to improve graduate and worker job-readiness.

To respond directly to the demands of the 4IR, REGENT Business School has developed unique spaces called iLeadLab at various learning support centres. The objective of the iLeadLab is to empower our learning community through the development of 21st Century skills and competencies, innovation, interpersonal and work readiness skills, and commercialisation of product development. In this way, REGENT is providing education for employability. It will be a privilege to partner with you on this important journey.

I look forward to welcoming you at
REGENT BUSINESS SCHOOL.

Warm regards,

Professor Marvin M. Kambuwa
Principal
